Hello Trinity people,
How are you bearing up under our corona-distancing?
During the fall of 1940, the citizens of London were required to remain in underground bomb shelters for long periods of time. The Blitz bombing campaign by the German Luftwaffe created a time of psychological difficulty for Londoners. People struggled to cope with their sense of helplessness.

"I don't know. I just felt I had to be doing something."

The great preacher, Dr. Martyn Lloyd-Jones, told the story of a fireman who rushed from a bomb shelter after an air raid. He took a hammer and was pounding away on a steel pillar at the foundation of a public building. Police officers were called. When they asked the fireman why he was beating on the pillar, He said, "I don't know. I just felt I had to be doing something."

The desire to be "doing something" is natural, but as 1 Kings chapter 19:11-12 reminds us, God's voice is not heard in the whirlwind of activity, but in the still, small voice. As we comply with the restrictions laid on us by our governing authorities, take advantage of this time without the whirlwind. As I have said before, "don't waste a perfectly good pandemic." Use this time as an opportunity to be still before the Lord.

...Take a dive deeper into God's word...have a family devotion with your children before bed...put the technology away and play a board game...watch an inspiring movie...read books about the faith. Above all else, let's say our prayers!

The world is in chaos. People are afraid. The world clamors for a solution. But there is only one Savior. He doesn't work for the CDC, and He doesn't work for the WHO. As Christians, we have an opportunity to demonstrate trust in God and point people to the Great Physician.

As we wait, your priests pray for you each day. We have also assigned you in our connection software, Realm, into online "neighborhood groups" to facilitate our mutual care and support (please email meredith@trinitysta.org if you are having trouble). We continue to hold online services until we can all safely gather once more in our church.

We love you and God loves you even more. Be strong and of good courage!

Grace, mercy and peace in Christ Jesus our Lord,
Matt+

With Arms Wide Open

"He stretched out his arms upon the cross, and offered himself, in obedience to your will, a perfect sacrifice for the whole world," (Eucharistic Prayer A; BCP, 362).

Soon after the Holy, Holy, Holy in Eucharistic Prayer A used at the 9:00 and 11:15 Services, we hear the phrase above. And while the entire phrase explains that Jesus' death upon the cross has forgiven the sins of the whole world, it is the very beginning of the phrase, "He stretched out his arms upon the cross," which strikes a chord in the heart of each Christian.

This phrase tells us that the Roman soldiers did not have to force Jesus into the crucifixion. It was not necessary for two soldiers to hold Him down while a third soldier pounded the nails. There was no struggle. There was no confrontation. He did not put up a fight. He did not try to get away. He did not squirm. Rather, Jesus surrendered. He surrendered in perfect obedience to His Father for the salvation of the world. He gave all of Himself. The most brutal death was willingly and peacefully accepted. He stretched out His arms upon the cross. It was easy for the soldiers. It must have been the easiest crucifixion the soldiers ever administered.

Jesus died willingly. Jesus was willing to die for your sins. At the 7:30 Service, Form I we pray, "...of Thy tender mercy, didst give Thine Only Son Jesus Christ to suffer death upon the cross for our redemption; who made there, by his one oblation of himself once offered, a full, perfect, and sufficient sacrifice, oblation, and satisfaction, for the sins of the whole world," (BCP, 334).

There is no wiggle room in this carefully selected and theologically rich wording. Jesus' death paid the price for the sins of the whole world. And Jesus' death paid the price for all of your sins as well.

This is what we celebrate during Holy Week and Easter. The debt of your sins was paid for when the Son of God willingly stretched out His arms so that you can one day be with Him in His Kingdom. Jesus loves you with arms wide open.

The Rev. Ken Herzog

Bringing Trinity Parish to YOU!

During this time of relative isolation for many people, Trinity staff and a team of parishioners have been working hard to bring Trinity Parish Sunday Worship Services, Wednesday evening programs and information to your homes. If you have not given your email address to Susan, Parish Administrator, please do so, to stay better connected with your church family.

Technology Upgrades

Our staff team has been working tirelessly to make it easier for you to worship, connect, grow and go:

Our existing web address (trinityepiscopalparish.org) and email addresses will continue to work. However, we now have...

1. A lovely new website (Jen and Tom Reed): It doesn't have a few features we are still working on, but it is an improvement we launched. Check it out if you haven't yet: trinitysta.org
2. Simplified email addresses: firstname@trinitysta.org, or "frfirstname" for clergy. (Susan Lieberman)
3. Unified our social media addresses: everything is now "trinityparishsta"
 - Youtube: youtube.com/trinityparishsta (Isela Gonzalez)
 - Facebook: facebook.com/trinityparishsta (Amanda Boulier)
 - Instagram: instagram.com/trinityparishsta (Amanda Boulier)
 - Internet: trinitysta.org or trinityparishsta.org (Susan Lieberman)
4. Working on a "Worship Online" page on the website that will embed our YouTube feed to show a live-stream of the service (Isela Gonzalez)
5. Upgrading our livestream to be present on multiple platforms at once (ie. Youtube, Facebook, Instagram TV and the website) (Rob Heurbsch and Dan Bagan)
6. Created a system of "online pastors" during our livestreams (Courtney Wilson and Justin Snavelly on Facebook, Jim and Carolyn Levay on Youtube)
7. Utilize Zoom as a platform to provide interaction and content (A Zoom conference can be used by anyone with a smartphone, tablet, computer or smart tv)
8. Put together instructions to view the Livestream on your Smart Tv, or Apple TV, Google, Alexa, or Roku. (Jouana Murphy) Detailed instructions can be found on page 14.

Thanks to staff and parishioners for long hour of work in this effort!

The Senior Warden's Message

Sandy Goode

The date for Fr. Matt's installation as Trinity Rector will be set soon; stay tuned!

New Structures and Functions

Trinity ministries now are under staff management and vestry is now responsible for strategic visioning and planning, with oversight of finances and property. (See the listing showing the responsible staff person with the ministries under his/her management.)

Ministry members will always have the direct supervision of the ministry leader. The ministry leader reports to/gets counsel from the designated staff person. Each ministry has a place under one of five headings:

Worship-Fr. Matt

Connections-Meredith Cataland

Formation-Fr. Ken

Service-Fr. Ken

Administration/Operations-Susan Lieberman

Fr. Matt is the link between staff and vestry reporting. Fr. Ken is a voice in both groups and I attend staff meetings frequently.

Vestry will have subcommittees, standing and ad hoc. At this time a Strategic Visioning and Planning Subcommittee is being formed, chaired by Ray Johnson. A Lay Pastoral Care Subcommittee has begun meeting, chaired by Fr. Ken and me. This group will develop a system in which trained parishioners assist the clergy in pastoral care in the church.

The church office is a quiet but very busy place

Frequent interruptions contribute to missed details. When needed, please schedule a time to meet with a staff member or use email. Ministry documents need to be drafted by ministry members and emailed to Susan for posting and entering into the church system. Thank you for your help. We are also in the process of obtaining assistance for Susan in computer work and also the reception area that is without a volunteer much of the time. If you are interested in helping out at the front desk, contact Susan.

Serving with you FHS,
Sandy

The Junior Warden's Message

I want to take this opportunity to thank our congregation for the honor to serve as your Junior Warden and as a member of our Vestry. If I have not had the pleasure of meeting you, I look forward to that opportunity and I am here to serve you all!

Here are a couple of things taking place with our amazing facilities.

Organ Maintenance Project -- The organ at Trinity has not been cleaned for many years. Deferred maintenance and necessary repairs are being addressed now. There are two phases to the project:

Phase one involves removing and cleaning all pipes, wind chests, reservoirs and chamber floors. Afterward they will be re-installed and tuned.

Two of the three sets of pipes have been completed -- including removal of several gecko carcasses from the pipes! The third and largest set of pipes, will be completed over the next month.

The second phase involves rebuilding the blower, which supplies all wind to the organ. This will require the organ to be out of service for a period of time, so we are planning to do this over the summer.

The blower will be removed and shipped to Robert Otey in Seattle, WA where it will be completely refurbished and repowered. Mr. Otey is one of the premier experts on Spencer blowers worldwide!

We will keep you posted on our progress.

Parking Lot – We have made several improvements to the parking lot resulting in the creation of additional spots!

We poured a concrete pad where there was coquina sand to formally identify 3 parking spaces.

In addition, we picked up each yellow wheel stop and reconfigured them into uniform 9' parking spaces that resulted in the creation of 5 additional spots!

Update: Due to the Covid-19 situation, the City of St. Augustine has turned off all of their parking meters resulting in free parking until further notice. This has forced us to do the same with our parking lot. Losing this revenue is a significant sacrifice. Rather than manning an empty parking lot we are utilizing our parking lot staff to assist with pastoral care. As soon as the City begins to charge for parking, we will do the same.

I want to express my appreciation to our Facilities Manager, Chris Bodor and his staff for the amazing work and dedication they demonstrate every day. They make me look good!

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to reach out and GOD BLESS!

From Trinity's Music Director

Even as we are all in "sheltered at home" mode during these difficult times, it might be a good time for those who love to sing or make music to consider being part of the ongoing programs at church. While the adult choir is a big commitment, the joys of blending our voices in praise gives back many fold. Our choir community is a very happy and caring group. Newcomers are welcomed. It helps if you have some choral experience in singing parts, and reading music is a plus, but not totally necessary. Come and sing with us and give it a trial period.

The handbell choir is a fun group of folks who enjoy the challenge of ringing together. Rhythm reading is pretty much essential, but it does not have to be advanced. We hope to incorporate the bells more in our services once we begin to worship together.

Our plan is to have one or more children's singing groups by the Fall. If your child loves to sing, keep the church program in mind as you plan. Haley Kirk will be leading this endeavor.

If you would like more information contact Cliff Parrish at cliff@trinitysta.org

Come hear Cliff's work at 9 and 11:15 AM each Sunday!

Trinity's Youth

Jouana Murphy

I was reading an article the other day about how China and Italy are starting to notice changes because of their quarantine. China has noticed new green earth, the pollution in the air is decreasing, and animals are coming out of hiding.

Italy is noticing their canals are clear with dolphins. Is this time for a new spiritual awakening?

The season of Advent we are invited to examine our hearts and make room for Christ in those places currently crowded with other attachments. And here we are now, in some very critical and teachable times. I can't help but to pray, "God what are you telling us?" Fear and chaos surround us, but God echo's and he reminds us that he has given us power and love and a sound mind.

Depth is being forced on us by great suffering, which will lead to great love.

A devotion by Richard Rohr's states, "That we have a chance to go deep, and to go broad. Depth is being forced on us by great suffering, which will lead to great love.

Invite God's presence to hold and sustain us in a time of collective prayer and lament. During this time of social distance and isolation what are we doing to examine our hearts?" What is God telling you? Perhaps this time is for us to slow down, to make time for things that we haven't made time for in the past. Whether it be a hobby, time alone with God, or spending time with family. Whatever God is calling you to do, choose to be like Paul, in contentment with Jesus no matter what is going on around you.

On behalf of the Youth Group we are saddened that our BBQ has been postponed. We are currently working on refunds. We give thanks for those who continue to support us!

- Christmas decorating at St. Gerard's Campus
- Our Christmas party, which was a lot of fun thanks to Angela Bean
- Our March 10th meeting with outstanding attendance.

Our prayer shawl committee took a little hiatus, but thanks to Heather Stavang, we are back as our prayer shawls stock is diminishing.

Our Christmas party (below, left) photo does not show everyone who attended. We were too late taking the photo.

We sent Samaritan's Purse $300 in support of Operational Heal Our Patriots and collected 60 lbs. of baby items for St Gerard's Campus.

Joy. How is your Lent going? Mine has been chaotic, certainly not as reverent or as restful as I had hoped going in to this season. My family has been listening to a lot of music from "King and Country" and a portion of their song "Shoulders" has reminded me that my rest needs to be in Jesus and that I must lean on Him.

"When I'm caught deep in the valley
With chaos for my company I'll find my comfort here
'Cause I know that You are near

My help comes from You
You're right here, pulling me through You carry my weakness, my sickness, my brokenness all on Your shoulders,

Your shoulders
My help comes from You
You are my rest, my rescue
I don't have to see to believe that You're lifting me up on Your shoulders,
Your shoulders"

Joy is remembering that God is near no matter your circumstances...

These lyrics and so many of their songs have helped me clear my head and remember when I hand over my faults, failures and sin to Him then I can accept His grace. I can live in Joy much like a child on their daddy's shoulders exploring the world together.

As we enter Easter let's remember that Jesus died on that cross to absolve us of the sins that separated us from God thereby ensuring that we could live in Joy. I capitalize Joy on purpose because it is a gift of God. Joy found in God's grace is not tied to happiness, it is found in forgiveness and reconciliation. Joy is remembering that God is near no matter your circumstances, He is pulling you through, He is your rest and your rescue. Praise Jesus and may you feel His Joy in all you do.

Trinity Episcopal Learning Center

Trinity Episcopal Learning Center is an educational ministry of Trinity Parish. The school serves children ages two years through Pre-K. Our purpose is to prepare young children in a loving, Christian environment to reach their potential for entering Kindergarten. Our curriculum utilizes a learning center approach which provides for the organization of materials into different areas of interest. We provide age appropriate, multi-sensory experiences in mathematics, language arts, science, social studies, motor skills, art music and Christian education.

Why Trinity?

- Well rounded developmental curriculum
- Social interaction and learning through play
- Learning center

approach for discovery and exploration

- Art, music, motor skills, language arts and mathematics
- Positive discipline
- Well-qualified, caring teachers
- Enrichment classes in Spanish, Sign language, computers and physical health
- Half-day program
- Full day program
- Children’s chapel
- Science program
- Learning excursions and field trips
- Assessments in fall and spring
- Limit class size
